++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rather cloudy, best of the warm sunshine in the east.

Today:
Cloudy start, although some brighter spells possible in the east. Cloud breaking at times to give some warm sunny spells, mainly in the east. Thicker cloud persisting across many central and western parts, however. Feeling cooler near the eastern coasts. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloud breaking for most areas, to give clear spells, and the chance of the odd patch of mist or fog. Cloud increasing across Kent, however, with the odd shower possible. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Saturday:
Isolated fog soon lifting, with variable cloud amounts and sunny spells following. Eastern coasts breezier, with cloud across Kent thick enough at times to give the odd spot of rain. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Dry with sunny spells once morning fog clears, although Kent cloudier with showers Sunday. Also cloudier Tuesday with the odd spot of rain possible. Temperatures near normal. Breezy along coasts.
